I use it to read news from the BBC and receive regular emails from them via a web browser. The notifications generated by Firefly are very plain text, which is not a problem, and they do the job very well. I particularly like the bbc.co.uk display, which looks good and is easy to read. However, I find the notification email somewhat inadequate, because I want to see the headline, where there is a lot of white ba244e880a
