The apex court, however, came to a different conclusion by including Jadavpur University in the minority group's list of institutions. The issue came to a head in 2017 when 17 states had challenged the listing of Jadavpur University as a minority institution. Several state governments opposed the listing of Jadavpur University as a minority institution. They argued that the university was not a minority institution and an OBC institution. Mukul Rohatgi, then the lawyer general, said the University was not a minority institution and not an OBC institution and the judges of the apex court made a wrong decision. On Wednesday, Rohatgi was elected the Supreme Court's senior-most lawyer. His candidature was supported by the Assam Bar Association as well as the apex court bar association. He replaces Justice Sanjay Kishan Kaul. The top court on May 10, 2019 had told the Centre to take a decision within six weeks on the challenge filed by West Bengal, Meghalaya and Assam over the "Jadavpur University" being listed as a minority institution. The Centre had replied to the challenge that Jadavpur University is a minority institution. But, Rohatgi rejected the Centre's view and said: "The Centre was not a party to the pleas and the challenge was filed by the Assam Bar Association…whether a university can be a minority institution is a matter to be decided by the high court." The Supreme Court in December 2018 had declined the Centre's plea to dismiss the plea filed by the states challenging the listing of Jadavpur University as a minority institution. The apex court had also asked the Centre to file its detailed response 6a5afdab4c

Clam Sentinel Portable scans and monitors all active files or processes in order to detect potential system intrusion. It contains a real-time protection subsystem that is able to examine files as soon as they are accessed by the system, preferably even before their transfer from the virtual disk to the system memory. The real-time detection mechanism makes it highly convenient to provide a real-time anti-malware system since it does not incur any additional setup and configuration. Moreover, users do not need to bother about looking for the proper out-of-the-box antivirus activation keys as they will become available right away after the installation of Clam Sentinel. A single scan can detect the presence of multiple malicious software infections and also allows to fix the detected threats. From a usability standpoint, Clam Sentinel Portable is designed in a compact and convenient manner, so the amount of involved files is just five (plus those from the installation folder and registry). Installation and setup are done in a matter of seconds and no additional setup or configuration is required. When ClamWin is not installed, a notification for the lack of the security solution is displayed on the screen. Main functionality of the application is presented in a clean and straightforward manner, users just have to open the program and make the selection from the main menu. The software is free of any kind of advertisement, spyware, malware or other inappropriate components.
