The key to a good Plan of Action is to leave no question in the mind of the Reader. If you are a sole proprietor, a doctor, or a small accounting firm, you may be able to handle every bookkeeping task by yourself. But just because you can do it yourself doesn't mean that you want to do it yourself. If you have ever been given a job that had so many books and/or journals that you had to locate a copy of the rules before you could use a single entry, you know why. Medlin General Ledger, our General Ledger program, is designed to handle all your bookkeeping tasks. But it is not designed to handle the entire task. It is meant to handle your bookkeeping duties for a year, at most. So what does it do for the rest of the business? First, we give you what you need to handle every task that you can possibly be interested in. If you are interested in the income statement, for example, you may not need to buy our other programs. If you are interested in tracking the credit card sales for the month, Medlin will handle the tracking. If you need a printable schedule for a month, Medlin will print it. But, Medlin is not a one-size-fits-all program. Each of our programs is designed to handle a different set of tasks. You can mix and match them to handle everything you need to handle. Let's look at the key features of "Medlin General Ledger": 1. Style We are not going to tell you that one program is "better" than another. It is just that you have to decide which style suits you better. "Expensive" programs require more training, but they are easier to learn. "Cheap" programs require less training, but they are more difficult to learn. Many of the fine features (such as "Context Sensitive Help" and "Automatically Enter Recurring Transactions") are found in "Premium" programs, but Medlin is designed to be the most cost effective. So which style do you want? You can learn our programs and you can then decide for yourself whether it's worth the trouble to go "Premium". If you're more interested in a "Cheap
